Fisk University bears the distinc-tion of being possibly the most polea-tial force in the shaping of the destiny of the colored citizens of the United States. Her sons and daughters have taken first place in the literary, scientific, musical and religious progress of Afro-Americans and it was only fitting that when the destress flashed to every corner of this great and glorious country that her sons should be among the first to report for duty.

The period of training just closed at the officers training camp at De Moine, lowa, will always stand as a monument to the ability and integrity of trained Afro-Americans.

The men registered at the Camp weer the flower of the manhood of the race. Clean, stalwart, intelligent, efficient, capable, they were a crelit a lasting glory to the institution which tered this camp because of patriotism more wonderful because denied emoluments. They benefitted by the vigor-
